Dear Dr. Johnson,

Let me first say, Thank You for speaking at the April 9, 1999 NAFED Conference in Philadelphia. You certainly have a gift for inspiring people and getting the audience to use their brain.

After 25 years in business, and many many conferences, seminars, and conventions, your Strategy for holding an audience captive was like a breath of fresh air. We didn't nod off after a half an hour, instead we were wishing the time given to you was longer. In fact, we are writing to our Association to ask for your return and a full day or more be arranged.

Your presentation was very intelligent in getting audience participation using commonly known subjects, and being candid and not above the crowded room. Definately not boring.

Again, thank you for your sharing your talent and if you have a schedule of where you will be speaking in the New York City or vicinity please do send it along. We look forward to your entire presentation and will definately be there with our son.

Sincerely,
VILLAGE FIRE EXTINGUISHER CO., INC.

PS- You were concerned about whether you could be heard clearly in the back of the room; we sat in the last row in the middle and didn't miss a word. And just for your information, an associate company's CEO traveled down to Philly just to hear you, didn't even stay for the rest of the Conference.
